Ramer, ALA, April 22- (Special)- Announcement was received here today from Auburn of the selection of Miss Frances Howard Sullivan, senior in Montgomery County High School, as a representative from Alabama to the eighth National 4-H Camp in Washington, D.C., June 14-20.

The selection of Miss Sullivan for this honor is a tribute to distinct qualities of leadership and community service shown by her during six years of 4-H Club work.

Two boys and two girls from each state will be selected to attend the national camp, which is held each year under the auspices of the United States Department of Agriculture Building, where tents are pitched for the young people during their visit to the nation's capital.

Miss Sullivan is president of the Ramer senior 4-H Club an office which she has held for three consecutive years. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Sullivan of the Smilietown community.

Other honors that have come to Miss Sullivan during her senior year in high school are the office of secretary of her class, president of the senior girl's glee club and salutation of the class, the last honor being given on her scholarship record.

In athletics, she won a trip to Montevallo and has been awarded both a school and state letter.

In 1933, Miss Sullivan was selected as the best all-round 4-H girl in Montgomery County which won her a trip to Auburn to the State Short Course. While there she and another club girl gave a demonstration in furnishing a girl's bedroom which was attended by the girls club assembled from the entire State. She also presided at the annual 4-Club rally last May an honor converted by every club girl in the county.

Miss Sullivan is interested in all phases of her 4-H Club work but especially does she like cooking. Each Summer she has canned her 4-H quota and also assisted her mother with the family canning budget. She has interested herself in teaching the negroes on her fathers place how to can. She makes cakes and sells them during Summer, and uses the proceeds to help with the purchase of her school clothes, books, and other supplies.

In speaking of her work, Miss Sullivan says: "4-H work has taught me through experience, the art of making my own clothes of food preservation and of home management. When I first began 4-H work, I was afraid to try things out." I had little experience in the practical things of life. But after six years of this work I have come to realize that the only way to learn things successfully through experience. In 4-H work I have had to do things and have them criticized and approved. Trial and demonstration have been the watch word of my project work. Errors have been many but I have struggled to make the best better. 4-H Club work has the many teachers of my high school career. May this work continue to be recognized for its great ability as a teacher and director."

When announcement was received by Mrs. Mamie C. Thorington, county director of 4-H work of the selection of Miss Sullivan for the National Camp Mrs. Thorington stated: "Early in her club work, Frances Howard began showing signs of leadership and the place she holds among her fellow club members as acknowledged leader has been demonstrated by her election of vice-president in her third year and president for the past three years. Not only is her own club work outstanding and her demonstrations to keep the work of her whole club on a high plane. One might say that respect and love for extension work born in her, for her older sister was a demonstration agent in the days which marked the early struggles of this work in Alabama."

Three other Montgomery County girls have been chosen to represent Alabama at the National Camp since its inauguration eight years ago. They were: Betty Raoul, of Pike Road, who immediately after camp, went to relative in Charlotte N.C. and obtained a position in the office of one of the large mills there; Lizzie Mae Dees, of Pike Road, who afterwards worked in the office of the Alabama Extension Service in Auburn, and later in the State Department of Education; and Louise Smilie of Smilietown, who thought her excellent record as a 4-H girl, won the International Harvester Company cash scholarship prize of $500 and is now in her junior year at Alabama Polytechnic Institute.
