Farm Agents, Agriculturists Face Busy Slate in January

By Mildred S. Smith

A busy month for agriculturists and Extension Service personnel in Montgomery County is ahead.

On Jan. 11, County Agent Tom P. McCabe and County Home Agent Maude C. Woodfin will make their annual reports to the Board of Revenue at a luncheon in the Extension Service auditorium at the courthouse. The luncheon will be at 12:30 p.m., immediately after the weekly meeting of the Board of Revenue. The reports will cover activities of the agents and their assistants during 1959.

On Jan. 14, the Montgomery County Cattlemen's Assn. will hold the annual mid-winter meeting and election of officers and directors. This will also be in the Extension Service auditorium at the courthouse beginning at 10 a.m. Dr. E. T. York Jr., Director of the Auburn University Extension Service will be guest speaker.

On January 20, a Soil Conservation School will be held at the courthouse from 9:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m., when a distinguished panel of speakers will discuss soil conservation problems. The panel will consist of J. C. Lowery, Auburn University Extension Service agronomist; Dr. Dennis Rouse, head of the soil testing laboratory at Auburn; Dr. Clarence Wilson, agronomist for U. S. Steel; Dr. Clarence Scarbrook, soil chemist with the Auburn University Experiment Station; and Frank Boyd, Montgomery, president of the Alabama Soil Fertility Society, Inc.

This will be an open meeting and all interested persons are invited.

The final meeting this month will be a school for cattlemen, in which the subjects of nutrition and wintering of cows will be discussed by specialists.

In addition to these meetings of local interest, there will be the Southern Regional Aberdeen-Angus show Monday, the annual meeting Monday night and the sale Tuesday; and Todiway Acres' sale of purebred Herefords on Jan. 11 at the ranch at Pike Road.

New Record in Circulation Set By Library In January

By Mildred B. Smith

The Montgomery County Library reached a total circulation of 30,963 in January, setting a new high in reading in the county, Mrs. Tommie Greene, county librarian, reports.

In contrast, the total figure for January, 1959 was 17,392.

Mrs. Greene who says this is the first time the circulation for one month has reached the 30,000 mark, says the increase is probably due to the larger school population and an improving school circulation.

She reports a great interest in scientific books for all ages, and that some of the schools have grouped their pupils according to ability and make reading ability special requests for them.

According to the librarian, the facts seem to disprove two quotations taken from a library bulletin: "The book is a greatly neglected invention," said by Logan Wilson, President of the University of Texas in a speech to the Louisiana State University library dedication; "We today are not a people reading...nor do we value learning," said Dr. Robert Oxnam, President of Pratt Institute, at the New York Library Assn. Conference in November.

"Montgomery County, particularly in its schools, does not fall in this group," Mrs. Greene says.

She also gives comparative figure in the cost of operating the Montgomery County Bookmobile to the national average. The largest number of bookmobiles in the survey costs more than 10 cents per mile with some running as much as 15 cents, yet the cost of operating the local bookmobile in the past fiscal year was only over 4 cents per mile.

Of the books circulated in January, adults read 885 fiction and 554 non-fiction; juveniles read 25,438 fiction and 3,996 non-fiction. Ninety-seven new books accessioned and books were placed on order at a cost of $306.72. Request filled were 581.

JOTTING: Martha Elanor Pugh, new president of the State Methodist Student Movement, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Pugh of Downing community...She is a junior at Huntingdon College...J.C. Men's Club Center Plan Joint Meeting in Snowdown

By Mildred B. Smith

A combined Meeting of Snowdown Men's Club and Snowdown Community Center will be held March 1 to make plans for further development of the recreation facility. Lee Calloway, Jr., president of the Men's Club, announced.

Miss Lorraine Powlus, head of the physical educational department of Troy State College, will give an exhibition of gymnastic dancing and baton twirling as the entertainment feature.

Plans will be completed for the annual barbecue sponsored by the Community Center, which had been scheduled for April 30. Profits from the barbecue are the main source of funds for development of the center.

In recent years the community group, assisted by the Men's Club and the Woman's Club of Snowdown, have built a modern swimming pool, a lighted athletic field, and an enclosed barbecue pit, and installed playground equipment for small children. These facilities adjoin Snowdown Women's Clubhouse which is available for community use or to outside groups at a nominal rental fee and are in almost constant use.

The WMS of Snowdown Baptist Church will prepare the supper for the combined meeting March 1.
